

This is a graded discussion: 10 points possible

due -

Assignment 2

Add a response/question/comment on your reading from Week 2-- the following are example questions and responses you can use:

2

1. Is there a thing such as using too much CSS? Is it bad style to use inline CSS?
2. Would there ever be a need for multiple CSS files to be linked to a single HTML file?
3. Do advanced websites also still use html, css and javascript? For example, the apple website. It isn't like any other website and has some fancy aspects to it.
4. What are the limits of html? (Where does the language get more complex or difficult compared to other coding languages)